RAILWAYS ON THE DEFENCE

Attorney-General Cross Says Province Will Have Another Suit With Railways

REGARDING PRAIRIE FIRES

Test Case will be Made—Redress Will be Sought at Bar of Privy Council if Necessary

The Attorney-General's Department will make a test case of prairie fires in an effort to compel the railway companies to recompense the settlers and homesteaders of the province, who have so severely suffered by fire during the past year.

This assurance was given the executive of the United Farmers of Alberta by Hon. C. W. Cross in the course of an interview which the farmers had with the government yesterday afternoon. A resolution to the effect that the blame for prairie fires be lodged with the railroads was submitted to the government and in reply the Attorney General said that his department has been having several fights with the railroads doing business in the province. He saw no reason why there should not be another. A test case would be made and would be fought to the Privy Council in England if necessary to get redress.

The question of prairie fires has been freely discussed at the local branches of the United Farmers Association in the affected districts. This has resulted in the resolution being presented to the convention in Edmonton where it was carried. The impression has been that prairie fires have not been started by the carelessness of the settlers, but by the carelessness of the railway companies. If the Attorney General's case against the railways is won it will mean a reparation of the damage to property which the settlers are incurring every year.

OPENING OF LIBERAL CLUB

Large Informal Gathering in the New Club Quarters in McDougall Court Last Evening

The formal opening of the new quarters of the Young Liberal club in the basement of McDougall court, took place last evening.

It was a banner evening for this live organization. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flags and bunting and looked very attractive. Invitations had been sent out to every Liberal in town and the club rooms were simply crowded with members and their numerous friends. C. F. Race, president of the club, acted as chairman and called on Hon. C. W. Cross and Hon. W. A. Buchanan for speeches. Both gentlemen delivered inspiring addresses touching on general topics and were applauded to the echo. Hon. P. E. Lessard gave an amusing account of his trip down east, and his humorous sallies were greeted with laughter on all sides.

A very pleasing musical programme was rendered by Messrs. Cranmond, Riley, and Pat Dunne.

The meeting broke up at a late hour everybody being of the opinion that the Young Men's Liberal Club has a magnificent future ahead of it. It was decided to hold weekly meetings throughout the winter months, in the new quarters.

IN HONOR OF EX-TRUSTEES

Late Members of the School Board Attend Brilliant Function in Norwood School Last Evening

One of the largest and most enjoyable imitations ever held under the auspices of the Edmonton school teachers was held in Norwood school last evening in honor of Alex. Taylor, A. E. May and Rev. Archdeacon Gray, ex-members of the Edmonton school board. The evening was spent in social entertainment followed by a dance which was continued until the midnight hour.

Superintendent McCall occupied the chair during the programme and called for five minute speeches from the following gentlemen who occupied seats on the platform: Judge Taylor, D. S. McKean, Dr. Ferris, P. E. Butcher, Alex. Butcher, Walter Ramsay, Rev. Dr. McQueen and John Ross. All spoke in the highest commendation of the late school trustees. Suitable response was made by Alex. Taylor and A. E. May, who declared that their interest in school affairs in this city would not lag by reason of the change in circumstances. Rev. Archdeacon Gray was unavoidably absent having been called to Red Deer yesterday morning.

The orchestra in attendance supplied splendid music throughout the evening and a vocal selection was rendered by Mr. A. McIsaac. Over 150 teachers and trustees and their friends were in attendance.

ALBERTA FARMERS ARE SATISFIED

U. F. A. Directors Present an Important Resolution to the Government Which was Readily Accepted

EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM LAID OUT

Agricultural Schools to be Established at Various Points in the Province as a Preliminary to University Course

The foundation for what a leading educationalist of the province has declared to be the best educational system that the world has seen was laid yesterday when the executive of the United Farmers of Alberta, representative of five thousand of the most progressive farmers of the province, adopted the principal of combining the agricultural college and the university.

For months the question of agricultural education has been practically paramount in the province. Articles giving expression to conflicting views on the subject have been written to the press. Scarcely a convention has been held where the subject was not raised. The government and the university senate had decided that the educational interests of the province depended on the inclusion of agricultural curriculum. This stand was firmly taken but at times the opposition was so strong that it was doubtful where it would ultimately end.

The United Farmers of Alberta incorporated the question in the list of resolutions which came before the convention held in Edmonton in January. It was temporarily disposed of by having it referred to the executive. The executive was to determine the line of action and to meet with the government to attempt a settlement of the question once and for all.

Resolution is Significant

The U. F. A. executive met in Edmonton on Thursday evening. Before the meeting rose a resolution was drafted for presentation to the government. This resolution was significant. It represented the attitude of the strongest farmers' organization in the province on a most vital educational issue. If it met with the approval of the government all factions would see eye to eye and a harmonious educational policy for the province would ensue.

An appointment was made yesterday afternoon and every member of the provincial cabinet was present. The resolution submitted read as follows: "Having considered the matter of the agricultural college we do recommend to the government that there should be established in connection with the agricultural college in various parts of the province agricultural schools with practical demonstration farms attached thereto, such schools to take up the practical farm work, and the students to reside on the farms, the final course to be taken at the agricultural college, and we further recommend that the farmers be given a fair and equitable representation on the governing bodies of the university, and in the event of these recommendations being carried out we agree to the principle of combining the agricultural college and the university."

Accepted by the Government

The resolution was readily accepted.

BAD ACTORS MAY BE HISSED

Montreal Court Held That Audience May Lawfully Show Displeasure at Performance

Montreal, Feb. 5.—John Bennett, a young man aged 22, was brought before the recorder yesterday on charge of having created a disturbance in a Starland moving picture theatre, by hissing a performer whom he did not like. Recorder Weir held this was not a disturbance as it could not be proved that he had interfered with the enjoyment of the performance by the audience. The right of hissing bad actors exists.

H. B. C. Will Re-organize

London, Feb. 5.—At least two new directors will be elected by the Hudson's Bay Co., one of whom will be Richard Burbridge, managing director of Harrods' stores. There is no intention to transfer the board to Canada. Nobody imagines either that Strathcona will resign or that a new deputy governor may be chosen. The trading department of the company is to be completely reorganized to enable the company to reap its share of the astonishing general progress of Western Canada.

The creation of the new department will be submitted for ratification at the session of the legislature which opens next week.

INSANE MAN'S AWFUL DEED

Murders Wife and Four Children and Then Suicides to Escape Divine Vengeance

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 5.—Wm. Ruckheim, a farmer aged 35 years, murdered his wife and four children, then shot himself, last night at Parkers Prairie. He was found dying when his son went to the farm today. Ruckheim is believed to have been temporarily insane. He declared that he had received Divine Command to proceed to a certain graveyard where he and his family were to exhaust seven bodies using only their bare hands. Unless this command was carried out before Easter, Ruckheim said he and his family would be dragged to death. After examining the graveyard, and finding it would be impossible to perform the task on account of the frozen ground, he said he killed his family to escape divine vengeance.

CHILDREN OF OUR SCHOOLS

Committee of Physicians Will Report to Medical Association on General Health

The health of public school children and efficient medical inspection in connection therewith will soon be an important question in this city.

At a meeting of the local medical association in the city council chamber on Wednesday last, Dr. J. P. MacDonald read a paper on the subject in which he pointed out some very interesting facts in connection with diseases among school children. The paper was followed by a lengthy discussion on the subject and the concerns of opinion seemed to be that the time had come for the medical profession to take some action in the matter.

A committee was forthwith appointed to make a report to the association on the general health of Edmonton school children. The committee is composed of the following: Doctors Sygne, Crux, Collins, Macdonald and Nicholls. None of these physicians have acted on any previous committees.

Defied Prison Bars

Nelson, B.C., Feb. 5.—Arthur E. MacKenzie, of Cranbrook, was arrested at Greenwood for assaulting a half breed woman. While in the cell he tried the bars of the window and escaped, but was recaptured at Midway and brought back.

UNITED AIDS SOCIETY

Board of Directors Appointed and Provision Made for Incorporation as a Chartered Association

The first steps towards the incorporation of the United Aids into a chartered association were taken last evening at a public meeting held in the city hall, when the following board of directors was elected:

J. Travis Barker, T. W. Robertson, S. W. Candy, Ernest Brown, R. C. Watson, J. Elliott, Geo. Kenway, D. J. Smith, W. J. Case, Geo. Haller of Hallier and Aldridge, John Morley, S. H. Smith, J. D. Blayney, R. J. Robinson and Morley E. Battrick.

The last five retire from office in one year, the second five retire in two years and the first five retire in three years.

The following officers were elected for the year:

Honorary president—Mayor Lee, President—J. Travis Barker. First vice-president—S. W. Candy. Second vice-president—R. J. Robinson.

Treasurer—S. H. Smith.

Secretary—Thos. Turnbull.

A resolution was passed protesting against the negligently assistance given the United Aids by the Department of Agriculture. Many destitute immigrants have been given assistance by the United Aids and the members of the society feel that they should receive some encouragement from the Department.

Dawson, Hyndman and Hyndman will make application very shortly for a bill of incorporation for the United Aids Society.

Currie has been offered $600 for the balance of the season, and is expected to make his first appearance in Haileybury colors when they go up against the Wanderers at Montreal Tuesday. #### A REAL HELL

Described in the Columns of a Missouri Church Paper

In the Church Herald, published at Macon, Missouri, this article appears: Heaven is a beautiful city above, where there are no more sorrow, suffering and tears, and where there are blessings forevermore; while hell is isolated from all other worlds, beyond the confines of law and order, where not even a star ever shines to chase away the eternal midnight darkness. It is a desolate, gloomy, barren world, flowing with rivers of burning liquid emptying into a vast lake of fire and brimstone. Its fires are everlastingly burning upon the black altars of endless night. A lake of burning, boiling, bubbling brimstone, shrouded with dense darkness, rising in black clouds, with vivid flashings of divine wrath. Huge billows of fire rise up and chase each other in rapid succession, and dash as swirling arms back and forth, leaping high in the air, like the angry waves of the sea. On the crest of these awful billows the doomed of hell rise, only to sink down again to its bottomless depths. Millions upon millions of voices echo and reecho to the piteous wails of the lost forever, sending up their heartrending but fruitless cries for "Water! Water! Water!" the never ending prayer of the damned!

Hell is a place of the most intense and fearful suffering; where all the fifth and pollution of God's moral universe shall be gathered in one loathsome mass of putrefaction, the sickening stench of which will rise up with the smoke of their torment forever and forever. It is a place where dogs, sorcerers, whoremongers, idolaters and whosever longer and make a lie of all ages shall gather unrestrained to freely follow the inclinations of their wicked hearts and pay the penalties of the divine law which they have insulted, thwarted and defied eternally.

Who can contemplate an eternity of suffering in hell unmoved? Eternity is the factor of time and the companion of endless duration. Eternity is a clock whose ever-swinging pendulum swings to the birth and death of ages as they come and go forever and forevermore; where the sunrise of a thousand years is but the beginning of another thousand years and other thousands of years trooping along their gloomy march, and every second of those untold years is one of misery. This is hell, and it is as real as life.

A THREATENED LYNCHING

Negro Drew a Razor in a Chicago Theatre—Crowd Beats Wrong Man Unconscious

A Chicago dispatch says:

William Bailey, colored, 1841 Carroll avenue, was mobbed by a crowd of about a thousand persons at the corner of Van Buren and State streets. He was struck and stoned and badly beaten. The presence of two policemen at the corner prevented what threatened to become a lynching.

So badly was Bailey injured that he was taken into the emergency hospital, where his injuries were dressed. He will recover.

The attack arose from a fight which took place in the balcony of the Folly theatre on State street, earlier in the evening. Another negro, engaged in an altercation with several white men over a seat. He is said to have drawn a razor. He was seized, rushed down the aisle, and thrown headlong down the stairway.

His head was cut open and he was led out of the theatre by several of his friends. The trouble threatened to result in a panic and the ushers succeeded in calming the crowd. After the show was over and the crowd was filing out on State street some one pointed out Bailey and yelled: "There he goes. Get him!"

Bailey turned to protect himself and was knocked down with a rock. He got up and started to run. The crowd quickly followed. There were many cries of "Lynch him!" and Bailey was pursued down State street to the corner of Van Buren. Here he was overtaken and again knocked down. Within a few minutes after he was surrounded by a mob of howling men. Among the cries of the crowd were "Lynch him!" "String him up!" and "Get a rope!"

Two patrolmen from the Harrison street district with difficulty made their way into the centre of the crowd and rescued Bailey.

A riot call was turned in and a patrol wagon summoned. The mob melted away as quickly as it had formed. Before the wagon appeared and the police could make any arrests, none of Bailey's assailants were to be found.

The unconscious negro was hurried to the Harrison street police station. After a hasty examination the wagon was driven on to emergency hospital. A heavy gash in the head was found, and a fractured skull was feared, but closer examination showed the injury was slight. Bailey is 25 years old, a porter.

"I'm the wrong man," he said at the hospital. "I'm not the one that was in that fight at all. I didn't even know the fellow that pulled the razor."

A HIGH CLASS CARNIVAL

The carnival held in the Thistle Rink last evening by the Willing Workers of All Saints' Church was one of the social events of the season. Financially it was a huge success and from an artistic standpoint nothing better than the beautiful costumes worn last evening has ever been seen in Edmonton.

There were nearly 250 gaily costumed skaters on the ice, representing every country of the world. The color scheme was beautiful and will be long remembered by those fortunate enough to be present.

Mr. Percy Hardisty and Mrs. Picards of Calgary led about twenty couples through the mazes of the grand march, and everybody acquitted themselves very creditably.

Nine prizes were awarded, and won by the following skaters:

Ladies' best costume, $5—Mrs. T. O'Kelly. Gentleman's best costume, $5—Harold Lynn. Lady's best comic, $5—Miss Berg. Gent's best comic, $5—H. Hughes. ## EDMONTON'S WEATHER

Record a Matter of Particular Interest to a Visiting Editor From Quebec

IT AROUSED HIS ENTHUSIASM

At Harvest Time and on Enquiry he Came to the Conclusion That Year in and Year Out it was All Right

The following is another of the letters on Edmonton contributed to his paper by Mr. Frank Carroll, editor of the Quebec Telegraph:

We arrived in Edmonton bright and early, and were welcomed by a clear, cloudless blue sky. It was the sky we had often read about, and here it was right over us with a rising sun, which at that early hour of the morning pleasantly warmed us up.

We were not long in the city before we were admiring everything about it, the wide 60-foot streets, not only in the main part of the town, but everywhere for miles, north, south, east and west, paved with concrete and wooden blocks, with boulevard avenues here and there, but particularly in the residential end of the town, which is known as the "West End." We saw electric cars of the "pay as you enter" class, a service of double tracks almost everywhere, and an electric lighting system that could vie with Washington or Paris for brilliant night effect; while concrete sidewalks with the name of all the streets indelibly moulded into them at the corners to prevent some enterprising sign agent making a fortune out of selling thousands of enamel street signs to the city, then taking good care that the half of them are destroyed by the time next year, as has been done in several cities of the east.

Edmonton is to be congratulated upon its civic administration, which seems to have spared no efforts to make the city as attractive as any in the West. They seem to have forgozen very little in their arrangements of things. Even now the city is laid out over an area large enough to accommodate a population of 250,000 people, and what is delightful to the casual visitor passing through, is to note the fact that every citizen religiously believes that this increased population will be realized, not when he is dead, but within a very short time. We believe he is right, and although only in the city for a few days, we saw sufficient to warrant this prognostication. Edmonton is almost in the centre of the Province of Alberta. It is more favorably situated than any other city in the province; it is in the midst of a vast mixed farming district and is being made the railway centre of the Canadian Northern, the Grand Trunk Pacific, and Canadian Pacific Railways, which will afford it every facility for transporting its immense crops.

Mr. Harrison, the Secretary of the Board of Trade, said to us, "Edmonton adapts itself to every complex desire of incoming families. If a man wants society, we have the gubernatorial residence which will in a measure keep up the end; if he desires to educate his children, we have the finest schools and a University across the river at Strathcona; if he wants to give his boys a mechanical training, we have the machine shops of the Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern Railway; if he desires them to be pioneers, we have a company seven hundred miles to the North and West, in which to take up lots, while we mine seven hundred tons of lignite coal within the city limits every day, which makes it exceptionally cheap (about 3¢ per ton), while we manufacture twenty-five million feet of lumber and import seventy-five millions of feet from British Columbia. As a packing centre we have the Swifts of Chicago, with a million-dollar plant, with other smaller plants. The former employ some seven hundred men and ship from one to two cars per day of dressed beef. They expended $750,000 for stock last year.

"Edmonton district proper is a mixed farming country, good cattle, crops, sheep and horses are raised with great success and profit. We raise as good wheat as any other place, and also oats, barley, timothy grass, and alfalfa."

What glowing statements from the secretary of the Board of Trade. Yet we can vouch for every statement made as we have seen the most beautiful fields of all the grains mentioned and as fine herds of cattle as could be reared anywhere, and the vegetable growth was nothing less than marvellous.

The Weather.

We told the secretary that we believed the advertisement we have frequently seen advertising Edmonton as "the most northern city in Canada" was misleading and calculated to do it harm, because it gave people the impression that the winter climate must necessarily be a cold and rigid one, and Canada is sufficiently maligned on this score, which caused him to reply, "Why, I come from Halifax, and when I first came out here I naturally brought my snow-shoes, and I have to acknowledge that I have never yet seen sufficient snow to be able to use them."

This was not the only statement of the kind we had heard, as we met others who had told us similar stories, notwithstanding the fact that we had seen it stated in the papers that the thermometer occasionally registered fifty and sixty below zero, in the months of January and February. Upon the winter condition of Edmonton we have made many enquiries, and have come to the conclusion that the cold is one of the most misleading impressions of North Alberta, and of Edmonton in particular, as we were informed by a lumber merchant that he only wore his fur cap twice last winter, and that his teams of horses only used sleighs once, although they had timber every day during the winter. This, and the fact that most of the city men wear their felt hats throughout the winter months, forces us to deny that it is severely cold in and around Edmonton, in fact, we do not believe that it is as cold as in Quebec or Montreal.

The cattle of most of the farmers remain outdoors all the winter, only finding shelter under a temporary covering raised over two stables of hay, or straw, and boarded in on one side.

Under this frail shelter they rest during a storm and at night. We heard of a farmer from Ontario who erected beautiful barns as they do in the East, but he had ill success with his cattle, which were still almost all the season, and had to finally adopt the custom of the country and leave them in the open. The western cattle will not thrive indoors. This accounts for the absence of large barns throughout the West.

We believe that Edmonton has some inclement weather; it has considerable rain in May and June which makes it very disagreeable, but other parts of the Dominion have their share of such weather. But we doubt whether any other part of Canada can put up such fine weather as it has during August, September and October, for we were told that the samples we had during our three days' visit was the natural weather for these three months. It is clear and bracing, with a sky without a cloud, and as you look north or south, east or west, you see nothing but that beautiful sunshiny atmosphere that makes you breathe with a blessing for every inspiring inhalation. No wonder these Westerners were rejoicing at the bringing in of the sheaves, for we drove miles into the country, and in every direction the farmer and his scores of assistants were all busily engaged bridging in the golden wheat, which was to bring them golden dollars at the elevators. Only one sad incident marred that drive, and it was the winter waste and lost grain going on in every direction. Whether it was caused by carelessness, or lack of labor, we cannot say, but it was there just the same, and we felt sorry. Then again through speculative purposes, the land for several miles around Edmonton is held "on spec" when it could be turned into such good account. One can easily see that Edmonton wastes over a million dollars in this way, but it will be a long time before real thrift and economy is practiced in this new born country.

Strathcona is a town of five thousand population, lying on the banks of the Saskatchewan, across the river from Edmonton, and there is, or was, considerable rivalry between the two cities. The Canadian Pacific built up the former, while the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Railway did much towards the same results for the latter city, but in the race Edmonton has gone so far ahead of Strathcona, that the latter is hopelessly knocked out by political and natural circumstances which it could not control. Notwithstanding this, it is putting up a big fight, and the object lesson to be learned in this fight is well worth being studied by many other towns.

CHANCES OF WAR WITH GERMANY

A Canadian Journalist Tells of a Conversation he had With Sir Edward Grey

When the Imperial Press conference was in England last summer, says the Ottawa Journal, a member of the Canadian delegation found himself seated next to Sir Edward Grey, Great Britain's minister of foreign affairs, at one of the occasions of the conference. During the evening the Canadian editor said to Sir Edward Grey, "Would you tell me, for my personal satisfaction, exactly what you think of the so-called 'German scare,' and the cry for more rapid British building of war ships?"

Sir Edward Grey is looked upon in England as one of the three or four ablest and finest men in public life there, as one of the fairest-minded and most sane as well as most clear-sighted of political leaders. Despite the fact of Sir Edward Grey being a Liberal minister there is a curious strain of admiration evident in Conservative references to him; and while it is the fact that in the Liberal party in England there are indications of a trend into two camps, the more moderate wing headed by Mr. Asquith and Sir Edward Grey and a radical army behind Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Winston Churchill, both branches seem to have an equally deep respect for and confidence in Sir Edward Grey as a man of the highest type of honor and sincerity.

Must Face Possibility

On the occasion referred to, Sir Edward Grey was silent for a few moments, then spoke slowly and carefully in effect as follows:

"I cannot think that there is a likelihood of war. I cannot bring myself to believe that a great and intelligent and Christian nation like Germany could attack us without provocation, without grave fault on our own side. But I am compelled to admit that the historical fact is that in the course of her Imperial expansion, Germany has in our time gone more than half way to meet war with Denmark, with Austria, and with France, and has within a few weeks practically presented an ultimatum to Russia giving the option of war or silence regarding the annexation by Austria of Bosnia and Herzegovina. We must face the possibility that our turn might come. It is possible, though I cannot think it probable, that if Germany were strong enough on the sea to risk an encounter with our navy the encounter might ensue in spite of ourselves.

Would Spell Ruin

"If war were to come, and our navy were weakened, it would spell the ruin of the British Empire. Germany would not need to land a soldier in England. Our food comes from across the seas. We would be starved into absolute submission in a month.

"No other great power has to face such a consequence of defeat."

"We have two courses open. One, to allow Germany to easily catch up with us in sea power, and take the chance of a quarrel. The other, to try to keep so far ahead of her in naval force that no quarrel will occur."

"The latter course seems the necessary one. The possibilities of the other are too grave to risk so long as our resources enable us to keep ahead. "I would hardly contradict any one who would say that it is a hundred-to-one chance against our having war with Germany even when Germany has arrived in a position to risk it. And yet, I am compelled to feel that even though it be a hundred-to-one shot against war, we must not, if we can help it, take even the single chance which that single chance included the possibility of the ruin of England—the possibility of the end of our thousand years of English story."

NEW MILL FOR SETTLE

A correspondent writes: Messrs. Bullock and Goldwell are erecting a large flour mill, east of the town, and expect in a month to have it in running order. The machinery which is being installed, is of the best and a high grade quality of flour will be turned out.

The new National Hotel is also nearing completion and will be opened on the 12th day of February. This hotel will be one of the largest and best outside Edmonton or Calgary, costing $75,000, the whole building comprising eighty-two bedrooms, two parlors, bathroom, 25 feet wide by 60 feet long, large dining hall, office, barber shop and pool-room. Messrs. Shaw, Carder and Good are the proprietors. The school board has just completed the purchase of sixteen lots for the new brick school which they intend erecting next summer. The school will cost $200,000. The Board of Trade are offering splendid inducements, to anyone with a little capital and ability, to open up a brick yard, the day is of good quality and with such buildings as the Nations' Hotel costing $75,000, new school $20,000, other business blocks and stores besides scores of dwelling houses; the venture certainly looks good.

The Board of Trade are taking off the press next week a pamphlet in the form of an eight-page small newspaper which will give the history of Settler from beginning to the present time, her possibilities, and her needs. Anyone interested in Settler will do well to communicate with Mr. W. Dunlop, secretary Board of Trade, who will only be too pleased to send you a copy free.

Secretary Frank Day, of the Edmonton Hockey Club, received a challenge this morning from the Moose Jaw Club. They are after the F.R. Reform Cup and it is very likely the challenge will be accepted. Investor's Guarantee Corporation Puts a Lever to One's Financial Circumstances

One of the most noticeable features of our western life is the eagerness of all citizens to be in the swim, to get ahead and share in the general prosperity of the country and future appreciation of values by acquiring for themselves something tangible now (their homes, other property, or real estate) which they know in two, three or five years time will stand at a higher value.

A system has been devised by the Investors Guarantee Corporation of Canada which will help every man or woman to this end no matter what their financial circumstances.

By paying a small, almost a nominal monthly sum, a loan (at the low rate of 3 1/2 per cent interest and repayable on the easiest terms imaginable) is guaranteed within five years to build or purchase a home or any town property, with the chance of obtaining it any time (even next month) between now and then. Moreover after a period of time has been a subscribing member of the society a few months, the Corporation offer to advance the required sum (out of their own funds) at slightly higher rates, pending the member drawing his membership loan.

But these are only some of the advantages; there are many more, including life protection, a most important feature, whereby a full discharge of mortgage is given without any further payments in case of death of member. The full privilege of transferring membership or loan at any time if the member so desires without any restrictions being imposed upon him by the corporation. Every man or woman who wishes to own their own home or purchase other property to have a stake in the success and prosperity of our growing city and province should call and get full information about this system.

THE SAN FRANCISCO OPERA COMPANY

For tonight only the San Francisco Opera Company will present "The Time, the Place and the Girl" at the Empire theatre. Virginia Ainsworth, the new prima donna, will make her debut as the "widow," J. Russell Powell has the part of Little "Willie," the infant son of the widow, and Eulalia Young plays the part of the "girl." All of the other parts are in the same capable hands as before. Last week Calgary theatre goers laughed themselves sick at Mr. Powell's performance of "Willie" and the dainty, vicious Eulalia Young got all that the author intended out of the "girl." The playing of the three parts by new people necessarily means the introduction of new songs. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights of next week, as well as the Wednesday matinee the Empire management will give a grand double bill presenting the San Francisco Opera Company, Monday and Tuesday in "They Loved a Lassie," a very clever comedy set to music which is now running at the Whitney Theatre, Chicago, Ill., at present on the regular Empire Vandeville bill.

The game in the Intercollegiate league last night between the E. H. S. and S. C. I. teams proved a surprise as the wise ones had hoped it out that the S. C. I. would win. This clinches the championship for the E. H. S.

On Monday evening the meeting of the committee interested in the formation of a Y. M. C. A. in the city will meet at the Collegiate.
